

Signs

The wind turned, your scrawny craft uppercut.
How come

you couldn't sense
it early? Since
cues are eternal-

ly there in water
and in air, angles

of the sun, vapory intimations, dawns of
creaks before embarking,

the wrench-
ing solitary

cloud on livid skies,
a lover's eyes

gnawing the moon.